Better Hearing Means Better Overall Wellness!

Dear [PATIENT NAME]:

Communication is a critical part of everyday life. Interpreting information and communicating with loved ones is important always, but especially during this time. For many it's become apparent that their hearing instruments are not allowing them to hear and enjoy life to its fullest. We are here for you – we are open and here to help in a safe and caring environment.

At the time you purchased your hearing aids, you were fit with the best technology available. While your current devices are good, further advancements have made today's devices even better, and they deserve your consideration.

When you think about improving your health, start by upgrading your hearing!

We have several incentives available that will help ease the transition from your older devices to current, more advanced models that are more discreet, longer lasting, and offer you even better hearing.

We will be hosting a special upgrade event [EVENT DATES] and invite you to join us for a one-on-one appointment! Please call us at [PHONE NUMBER] to schedule your appointment to view and demonstrate the latest in hearing care technology.

Sincerely,

We're still committed to taking extra precautions to keep our office safe for everyone. We've increased sanitary precautions in accordance with the CDC's guidelines for Healthcare Providers. We are limiting the number of the people in the office and practicing social distancing. We've made select services available curbside during this time. Remember, appointments are limited so please call PHONE today!
